Nick Burton - the born again rally driver.

Having decided to swop his driving gloves for a pipe and slippers several decades ago. He got bored of that, and after getting back into the sport and blaming it on his son in law....

He built a 2.0 litre yellow Vauxhall Corsa, in which he does selected gravel rallies in the south and Wales.

He too is also into endurance rallying, and has a 1400 Corsa called Roland (after the rat that ate half of the wiring behind that dash causing a small electrical incident on one event).

See his website for more info on his antics in motorsport.
