Derek Mines or Dangermouse as he is also known. If he is attending any form of motorsport event, then hi is usually "IT" for the day. We don't mean that he is into playing with computers all day (this is his day job), but he is usually the butt of all jokes and pranks for the day.

Having said that he is also good at leading the rest of the team astray (Isn't that right Paul?!?), but he cannot drink well on events (ask Derek about the time at the Gravel Sprint down in Cornwall).
